The work of the Payment Methodology Workgroup and the Assisted Living Quality Council are related, but were created for different reasons, have different members, and have different goals. Both groups are necessary to ensure adequate medicaid funding, provide quality care, and provide reliable information to consumers.